

- Press Release -

Wallenberg-Sugihara Civil Courage Society
TENTH ANNUAL VANCOUVER RAOUL WALLENBERG DAY including presentation of the
INAUGURAL CIVIL COURAGE AWARD

SUNDAY, JANUARY 18, 2015, 1:30 P.M.
WOSK AUDITORIUM, 950 W 41ST AVE, VANCOUVER

The Wallenberg-Sugihara Civil Courage Society is pleased to announce the Lieutenant Governor of British Columbia, the Honourable Judith Guichon, will be in attendance at the presentation of the inaugural WALLENBERG-SUGIHARA CIVIL COURAGE AWARD. The Civil Courage Award is given to an individual associated with British Columbia, who at personal risk helped improve the lives of others and society, while defying unjust laws, norms, conventions or unethical behaviours of the time and place as exemplified by Raoul Wallenberg and Chiune Sugihara.

The award will be presented to the Honourable Ujjal Dosanjh for his actions as a critic of sectarian violence and his advocacy for social justice, often at great risk to his personal safety. He spoke out against terrorism within the Sikh Community. For his stand Mr. Dosanjh was attacked with an iron bar and almost killed. He recovered and went on to become attorney general, the first Indo-Canadian Provincial Premier and subsequently, the federal Minister of Health. As a critic of extremism and champion of liberal democracy he has been a great benefit to Canada and an inspiration to us all.

The annual Wallenberg Day event pays tribute to the courageous and heroic actions inspired by Raoul Wallenberg and Chiune Sugihara, who engaged in selfless acts of civil courage, at grave risk to themselves, their families and their future by choosing to follow their own personal moral code thus saving the lives of large numbers of Jews during WWII. Their names stand as a symbol for all such courageous and heroic acts.

This year's event will include screening of the film "The Rescuers", from Emmy Award-winning filmmaker Michael King, which uncovers the largely unknown stories of 13 heroic and courageous diplomats who, at tremendous personal cost, saved tens of thousands of lives during World War II. The film follows Stephanie Nyombayire, a young Rwandan anti-genocide activist who lost 100 family members in the 1990s Rwandan Genocide, and Sir Martin Gilbert, the renowned 20th century and Holocaust historian, as they travel across 15 countries and 3 continents interviewing survivors and descendants of the diplomats.

About the Wallenberg-Sugihara Civil Courage Society (WSCCS):

The WSCCS was formed by members of the Swedish Community, including the Honourary Swedish Consul, and the Jewish Community. The WSCCS recognizes and honours individuals who help others and society at great risk to themselves. The Society also aims to educate and inspire people and future generations. For more information please see the website www.wscs.ca.

"One person can make a difference."

For further information: Deborah Ross-Grayman, Director, at 604-250-3333 or info@wscs.ca

Backgrounders attached:

- Poster for current event
- Information about the Wallenberg-Sugihara Civil Courage Society
- Biography of first Wallenberg-Sugihara recipient, the Honourable Ujjal Dosanjh